

Special Features

Listing of Tables, Figures, and Resources

TABLES

Table 1.1:	A Sampling of Assistive Technology Resources to Facilitate Access to the Content, Product, and Process Demands of a Differentiated Instruction Lesson	4
Table 1.2:	Two Approaches to Differentiated Instruction	12
Table 1.3:	Administrative Actions to Promote Differentiation of Instruction	15
Table 2.1:	Gathering the Facts About the Learner and the Classroom Demands	20
Table 2.2:	Meet the Co-Teachers and Students	20
Table 2.3:	Student and Class Summary for Kevin	22
Table 2.4:	Brainstormed Solutions to Address Mismatches Between Kevin and the Content, Process, and Product Demands of the Fourth-Grade Science and Social Studies Classes	24
Table 2.5:	Potential Technology Resources to Address Mismatches Between Facts About Kevin and the Classroom Demands	26
Table 2.6:	Student and Class Summary for Rosa	30
Table 2.7:	Brainstormed Solutions to Address Mismatches Between Rosa and Facts About Demands of the Middle Level Mathematics Classroom	31
Table 2.8:	Potential Technology Resources to Address Mismatches Between Facts About Rosa and the Classroom Demands	32

Table 2.9:	Student and Class Summary for Tina	36
Table 2.10:	Brainstormed Solutions to Address Mismatches Between Tina and the Demands of a Middle Level Science Classroom	37
Table 2.11:	Student and Class Summary for Chang	38
Table 2.12:	Brainstormed Solutions to Address Mismatches Between Chang and Facts About Demands of the High School Language Arts Classroom	39
Table 2.13:	Potential Technology Resources to Address Mismatches Between Facts About Chang and the Classroom Demands	40
Table 3.1:	Universal Design Lesson Plan Template	47
Table 3.2:	Brief Co-Teaching Universal Design Lesson Plan Template	57
Table 4.1:	A Sample Student Interest Inventory	62
Table 4.2:	The Eight Multiple Intelligences Defined	67
Table 4.3:	Chart of R's Frequency of "Call Outs" During 30-Minute Sessions	69
Table 4.4:	Cooperative Learning and Gathering Facts About the Learners	71
Table 4.5:	An Example of an Informal Assessment of Social Skills	72
Table 4.6:	The Eight Key MAPs Questions	73
Table 5.1:	Differentiating Content Using Multiple Intelligences (MI) Theory	80
Table 5.2:	Taba's Knowledge Categories	83
Table 5.3:	Levels of Participation in the Content	86
Table 5.4:	Sample Web-Based Resources to Differentiate Content: Multiple Means of Representation	87
Table 5.5:	Sample Sheltered English Techniques During a Lesson	93
Table 5.6:	Additional Content Differentiation Strategies	94
Table 6.1:	Sample Web-Based Resources to Assist in Product Differentiation: Multiple Means of Expression/Action	102
Table 6.2:	Using Bloom's Taxonomy to Differentiate the Products of Learning	106
Table 6.3:	Using Concepts From MI Theory to Differentiate Learning Outcomes	108

Table 6.4:	Bloom’s Taxonomy / Multiple Intelligences Theory Product and Assessment Differentiation Menu	109
Table 6.5:	Integrating Bloom’s Taxonomy and Multiple Intelligences Theory for Lesson Products	110
Table 6.6:	Guidelines to Ensure Grading Practices Are Fair and Nondiscriminatory	115
Table 6.7:	Sample Adaptations for Assignments and Testing	118
Table 7.1:	A Menu of Options to Differentiate the Process of Instruction	122
Table 7.2:	Top Nine Research-Based Strategies for Increasing Student Achievement	124
Table 7.3:	Sample Techniques for Actively Engaging Students During a Lecture	124
Table 7.4:	Sample Web-Based Resources for Differentiating the Processes of Learning: Multiple Means of Engagement	126
Table 7.5:	More Formal and Long-Term Cooperative Learning Structures	129
Table 7.6:	Quick Cooperative Learning Structures for Actively Engaging Students	130
Table 7.7:	Differentiating the Process of Learning With Bloom’s Taxonomy	134
Table 7.8:	Differentiation of the Learning Process Via Concepts From MI Theory	136
Table 7.9:	First Graders Write Poems Based on the Visual Arts	137
Table 7.10:	Additional Social Environment and Personalized Support Strategies	138
Table 8.1:	From Least to More Intense and Intrusive Support Options	145
Table 8.2:	Collaborative Planning and Evaluation Meeting Agenda Format	148
Table 8.3:	Facilitating Task Achievement and Relationship Development	151
Table 8.4:	“Are We Really a Collaborative Team?” Self-Assessment	152
Table 9.1:	A Matrix for Note-Taking	160
Table 9.2:	Seven Ways for Co-Teachers to Use the Parallel Teaching Approach	161

Case Studies	Blank Instructional Observation Form	168
Introduction
Table 1:
Case Studies	Completed Instructional Observation Form for
Introduction	Simon and Anthony on Algebra II Lesson	171
Table 2:
Case Studies	Post-Instructional Observation Conference Form	174
Introduction
Table 3:
Case Studies	Post Instructional Observation Conference Form
Introduction	for Simon and Anthony on Algebra II Lesson	175
Table 4:
Table 10.1:	Universal Design Lesson Plan Template: Fourth Grade Social Studies for Kevin and Classmates	194
Table 11.1:	Teacher Developed Mid-Year Academic Self-Assessment for Algebra I	204
Table 11.2:	Key Mathematics Standards Guiding the UDL Lessons	206
Table 11.3:	A Sampler of Mathematicians Around the World	208
Table 11.4:	Elements of Cognitive Guided Instruction	209
Table 11.5:	Formative Assessment for Cooperative Learning Group Activities: "Exit Slip"	210
Table 11.6:	Universal Design Lesson Plan Template: Middle Level Mathematics for Rosa and Classmates	212
Table 12.1:	Results of Tina's MAPs Meeting	220
Table 12.2:	Action Plan for Tina Resulting From MAPs Meeting	222
Table 12.3:	UDL Lesson Plan to Differentiate Instruction: Middle Level Science	231
Table 13.1:	Maarten's Program-at-a-Glance	244
Table 13.2:	Summary Information From Gathering Facts About Four Learners	245
Table 13.3:	Matrix Meshing the Facts About Maarten and the Lesson's Goals and Activities	246
Table 13.4:	Task Sheet #1	248
Table 13.5:	Task Sheet #2	249
Table 13.6:	Tips and Strategies for Co-Teacher Role Differentiation/Teacher Actions During Co-Teaching	250

Table 13.7:	The Completed UDL Plan for High School Language Arts	254
Table 14.1:	Collaborative Professional Learning Plan Proposal	263
Table 14.2:	Brainstormed List of Students' Possible Interests	266
Table 14.3:	Statistical Data Collection, Analysis, and Display Project Checklist	272
Table 14.4:	Reasoning Habits Self-Assessment	273
Table 14.5:	Ways to Use Nine Research-Based Strategies in the Algebra II Unit	274
Table 14.6:	UDL Unit Plan for High School Algebra II	279

FIGURES

Figure 1.1:	Content Map for Chapter 1	1
Figure 1.2:	The Multiple Rationales for Differentiated Instruction	3
Figure 2.1:	Content Map for Chapter 2	17
Figure 3.1:	Content Map for Chapter 3	43
Figure 3.2:	UDL Lesson Plan Cycle	46
Figure 4.1:	Content Map for Chapter 4	59
Figure 4.2:	Student-Generated Graphs Representing Whole Class Interests	64
Figure 4.3:	MI Pizza	66
Figure 4.4:	Ms. S's Graph for R's "Calling Out" Behaviors	69
Figure 4.5:	A Visual Representation of the Phenomenon of Disability Spread	75
Figure 5.1:	Content Map for Chapter 5	77
Figure 5.2:	Key Terms and Verbs for Bloom's Digital Taxonomy	82
Figure 6.1:	Content Map for Chapter 6	99
Figure 7.1:	Content Map for Chapter 7	121
Figure 8.1:	Content Map for Chapter 8	143
Figure 9.1:	Content Map for Chapter 9	155
Figure 9.2:	Similarities and Differences of Supportive, Parallel, Complementary, and Team Co-Teaching Approaches	164
Figure 10.1:	Content Map for Chapter 10	179
Figure 11.1:	Content Map for Chapter 11	201

Figure 12.1:	Content Map for Chapter 12	217
Figure 13.1:	Content Map for Chapter 13	241
Figure 13.2:	Montague and Capulet Graphic Organizer	249
Figure 14.1:	Content Map for Chapter 14	261
Figure 15.1:	Content Map for Chapter 15	287
Figure 15.2:	Universal Design for Learning Lesson Plan Cycle to Differentiate Instruction	289

RESOURCES

Resource A:	Gathering the Facts About the Learner and the Classroom Demands	289
Resource B:	Blank Universal Design Lesson Plan Template	291
Resource C:	Top Nine Research-Based Strategies for Increasing Student Achievement	292
Resource D:	Co-Teaching Approaches: Matrix for Note-Taking	293
Resource E:	Collaborative Professional Learning Plan Proposal	294
Resource F:	Instructional Observation Form	295
Resource G:	Post-Instructional Observation Conference Form	298
Resource H:	Instructional Observation Form Glossary of Terms and Descriptions	299